Aalto University in the International Competition of Landscape Architecture Programmes 2018

This exhibition displays the students’ works submitted by the 9 finalists and 7 semifinalists of the International Competition of Landscape Architecture Programmes (10th Biennial of Landscape Architecture of Barcelona). The Competition counted with the participation of 80 universities from the five continents and the Aalto University programme was selected as one of the 9 finalists.

The International Biennial of Landscape expressed, since its first edition, the will of study and discuss the intervention in the landscape, both from landscape architecture as other disciplines that are linked to its study and evolution.
